MEET THE TEAM BEHIND THE MISSION

Clay County YMCA

Kaylee Maffioli
Executive Branch Director

As the Executive Director of the Clay County YMCA, Kaylee believes that collaboration is the cornerstone of impactful programming. With a background in exercise science, she understands the vital connection between a healthy spirit, mind, and body. Her leadership is rooted in the idea that when passionate people unite around a shared vision, the entire community benefits. In addition to her work at the YMCA, Kaylee gives back to her community through 100 Women Who Care, East Side Elementary PTO, and through serving on the Wabash Valley Community Foundation scholarship committee.

Lee Ann Hammond
Wellness Coordinator

Lee Ann Hammond is the Wellness Coordinator at the Clay County YMCA, where she is dedicated to inspiring others through movement and believes in making fitness both fun and accessible. With an extensive background in dance and fitness, Lee Ann brings creativity and energy to every class she teaches. In addition to her role at the YMCA, Lee Ann teaches dance and gymnastics at Studio One, blending her love for rhythm and wellness to create engaging experiences for her students. Her mission is to empower people to feel strong, confident, and healthy – one step at a time.

Mallory Jenkins
Membership Director

Mallory has a background in meteorology, yet her journey brought her to the YMCA, where she discovered a community that truly feels like family – a feeling that she is instilling in every guest that enters the Y. She is dedicated to programs that promote community health and mentorship to youth of all ages. In addition to her role at the YMCA, Mallory leads the youth group at Center Point Church and actively participates on both the nomination and outreach committees, further demonstrating her commitment to community engagement and service.

Kaley Pettiford
Sports & Aquatics Director

Kaley is the Sports Director at the Clay County Y, where she is dedicated to ensuring that every child who participates in YMCA youth sports not only learns fundamentals of the game but also builds confidence, teamwork, and a lifelong love of being active. Her passion for mentorship and youth development extends beyond the YMCA, as she also serves as a volleyball coach at Northview High School, where she is empowering student-athletes to reach their full potential. Whether in the gym, on the court, or in the community, Kaley is committed to using sports as a vehicle for connection, character building, and growth.

Michaela Sinclair
Youth Development Director

As the Youth Development Director, Michaela is passionate about supporting youth and families through programs that build character, confidence, and community. She moves the mission forward by creating safe, inclusive spaces where children can learn, grow, and thrive every day. Michaela stays connected to our community through serving on the IN STEM Ecosystem at Rose-Hulman and through my role as a foster parent. I am committed to strengthening community bonds and living out the Y's values in everything I do.
